First of Its Kind

Our new building, the first of its kind in the state, is constructed using mass timber methods. This creates strong, beautiful, exposed columns, beams and ceilings, and because it's wood, it requires no burning of fossil fuels during production.

RECLAIMING HISTORY

Inspired Design

Restoring the classic Louis Bass building, with its massive beams, elevated ceilings, and Cream City brick, is not just inspired design. It is the ultimate in sustainability, saving energy and generating less waste than demolition and then new construction.
